Your 30-Day Post Plan

YOUR NEXT 30 DAYS ARE PLANNED.
YOU JUST NEED TO PRESS RECORD.

MAGNIFY GROWTH × BPAG

How This Works

1

TWICE A WEEK

Batch film

Film the 23 talking-head posts in batches: 3 at a time, Monday and Thursday mornings at the office. The other 7 you film as they happen.

2

EVERY MONDAY

Plan the week

Look over last week's results, then edit and schedule the week's 7 posts. Thirty minutes.

3

EVERY DAY

One post, 7:30am

One post goes out every morning. Reply to comments for 15 minutes after it goes live. Tick it off.

4

EVERY SUNDAY

Improve one thing

Look back at the week, be honest, and improve one thing. On day 30, score every post on the review page.

Keep it general. Explain the rules, not what one person should do. Super and investment content can be financial product advice, so unless you're licensed for it, say "general information only, not advice" and point people to a meeting. Client stories need written consent and no identifying details.

BARE MINIMUM:
ONCE A WEEK.

MAX PLAY:
ONCE A DAY.

Start Where You Are

1 a week

BARE MINIMUM

Post the Monday post every week. Never go below this.

Days 1, 8, 15, 22, 29

5 posts this month

3 a week

BUILDING

Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Move up when once a week feels easy.

Days 1, 3, 5, 8, 10, 12, 15, 17, 19, 22, 24, 26, 29

13 posts this month

1 a day

MAX PLAY

Every post in this plan. This is where it compounds.

Days 1 to 30

30 posts this month

The guiding principle: start with the bare minimum, once a week, then build to once a day. A good post this week beats a perfect post next month.

Guiding Principles

LIMITING BELIEF

"I don't like how I look on camera."

You won't love it at the start. Nobody does, and that's fine. It gets easier with every video.

LIMITING BELIEF

"It needs one more edit."

You'll want to tweak it forever. Post it anyway, then get feedback and make the next one better.

GUIDING PRINCIPLE

Don't let analysis paralysis stop you.

Bare minimum once a week, max play once a day. A good post this week beats a perfect post next month.

GUIDING PRINCIPLE

Review once a week.

Every Sunday, look back and improve one thing. Then bring it up with us on our weekly call.

Your Filming Setup

1

IPHONE

Camera

Back camera, 4K at 30fps, vertical. Wipe the lens. Phone at eye level on a small tripod, or a stack of books on your desk.

2

SOUND

Mic

A clip-on mic if you have one. If not, wired headphones with the mic near your chin and the cable out of shot. Close the door.

3

Face a window

Sit facing a window, not with it behind you. Turn off the harsh ceiling light above you. Leave some office behind you for depth.

4

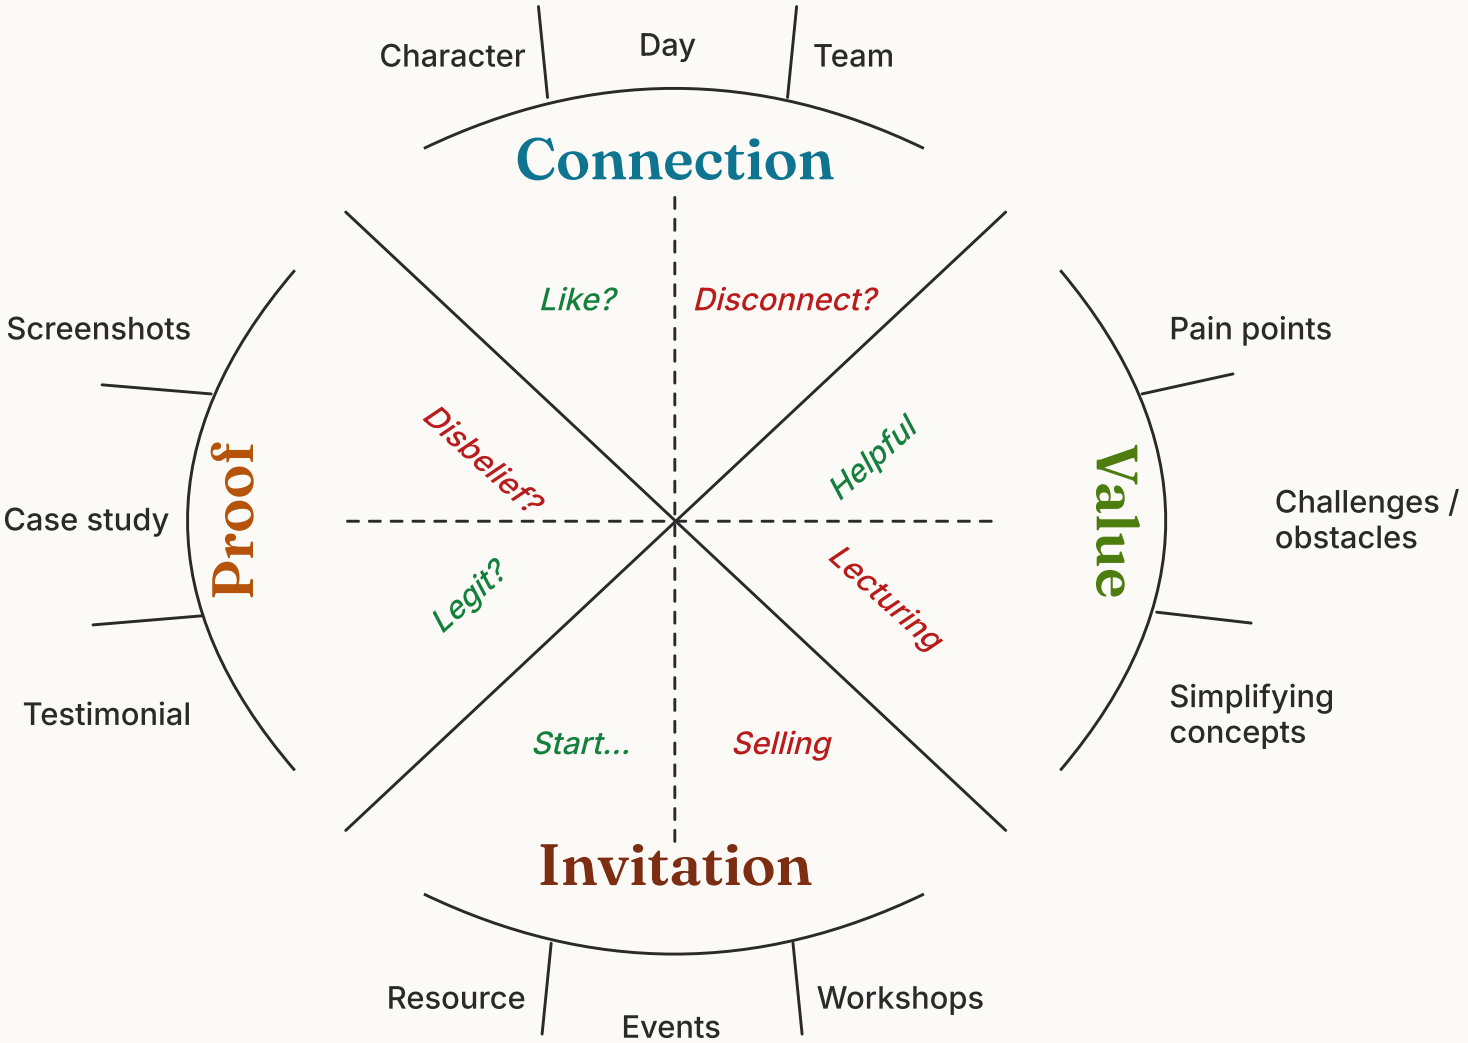

TAKES

Keep rolling

Look at the lens, not the screen. Pause 2 seconds before and after. Stumble? Restart the line. Three takes, then move on.

That's all you need. People will forgive a slightly soft video. They won't watch one they can't hear, so sound comes first.

The Four Content Pillars

Every post fits one of four pillars, and each pillar has three kinds of post. In each quarter: what people are asking, and the trap to avoid.

Pillar 1 of 4

Connection

They're asking

Do I like you? Do you get farming and business like I do?

The trap

Disconnect: only tax tips, so they never meet you or the team.

Character

Your opinions and what you stand for: how you think about tax, farming and business.

Post ideas

- Why you became an accountant
- Your take on this week's tax news
- An unpopular opinion about accountants

Say it like this

"Unpopular opinion: your accountant should talk to you more than once a year."

Day

Show what you already do: farm visits, the office, tax season, field days.

Post ideas

- On the farm with a client
- A Tuesday at BPAG
- Your stand at the field day

Say it like this

"Not every accountant works from a desk. Come with me to a client's farm."

Team

Put faces to the firm. Collab posts with the people clients will actually deal with.

Post ideas

- Meet [team member]
- Ask our bookkeeper
- Two accountants, one question

Say it like this

"This is [name]. If your BAS keeps you up at night, she's who you want."

People choose an accountant they trust, not just one who knows the rules.

Seen it work

Pillar 2 of 4

Value

They're asking

Is this helpful? Do I understand my tax better now?

The trap

Lecturing: jargon, too much detail, five rules in one video.

Pain points

The worries that keep farmers and business owners up at night, answered honestly.

Post ideas

- The good-season tax bill
- The new $3 million super tax
- A tax bill you can't pay yet

Say it like this

“The tax bill that catches farmers out isn't after a bad year. It's after a good one.”

Challenges / obstacles

Name the exact situation they're in, then show the way through it.

Post ideas

- Payday Super: what changed
- Tough season? 3 things to do now
- Outgrown your business structure?

Say it like this

“Tough season? Here are 3 things to do with your accountant now, not in June.”

Simplifying concepts

Take a rule people find confusing and say it in plain English.

Post ideas

- A "Farm Tax in 30 Seconds" series
- Farm management deposits
- The tax deduction myth

Say it like this

“Farm Tax in 30 Seconds: what a farm management deposit actually is.”

One idea per video. The better you know it, the simpler you can say it.

Seen it work

3.5M views Jasmine DiLucci, tax attorney + CPA (US). "How Taxes Change when you Make More Money": one idea, in plain English. youtube.com/shorts/UGKkWz44xN0

Pillar 3 of 4

Proof

They're asking

Are you legit? Who have you actually helped?

The trap

Disbelief: smart talk, but no sign of real clients or results.

Testimonial

A client on camera, in their own words, with their written OK.

Post ideas

- Ask happy clients after tax season
- 20 seconds: what it's like working with BPAG
- Read a Google review out on camera

Say it like this

"Don't take it from me. Here's what [client] said."

Case study

Start with the result, then how you got there. Details changed.

Post ideas

- A farming family, 12 months on
- Handing the farm on
- From shoebox to sorted

Say it like this

"A farming family came to us with [problem]. Twelve months later, [result]."

Screenshots

The thank-you emails and texts you already get. Names blurred, with permission.

Post ideas

- This message made our week
- Review of the month
- A client's before and after, no details

Say it like this

"This message made our whole week."

Knowing tax isn't enough. Show the farmers and businesses you've helped.

Seen it work

368K views Karlton Dennis, tax strategist (US). A 24-year-old client who saved $160,000 in tax: the result first, then how. youtube.com/shorts/Wfed_Mj9w08

Pillar 4 of 4

Invitation

They're asking

How do I get started with BPAG?

The trap

Selling: a pitch in every post. Give publicly, sell privately.

Resource

A free checklist or guide people get by commenting a keyword.

Post ideas

- Farm tax planning checklist (comment FARM)
- A Payday Super checklist
- A "before you buy that ute" guide

Say it like this

"I made a tax planning checklist for farmers. Comment FARM and I'll send it."

Events

Meet people in person: an info night, a field day stand, a coffee catch-up.

Post ideas

- Free farm tax and succession night
- Your stand at the field day
- Coffee's on us, [town], Friday 8am

Say it like this

"We're running a free farm tax and succession night in [town]. Comment SEAT."

Workshops

A low-cost, deeper session for people who've followed you for a while.

Post ideas

- Succession planning 101 (2 hours)
- Tax planning before 30 June
- Bookkeeping basics for farm businesses

Say it like this

"Want to go deeper? We're running a 2-hour succession workshop on [date]."

Invite them in. It should feel like an open door, not a sales call.

The good-season tax bill

“The tax bill that catches farmers out isn't after a bad year. It's after a good one.”

A big season means a big taxable income, and the bill lands months later, often after the money's gone back into the farm.

There are tools built for exactly this. Farm management deposits let you set money aside in a good year. Income averaging smooths your tax across the ups and downs.

The trick is planning before 30 June, not after.

Follow for farm tax, made simple.

Farm Tax in 30 Seconds #1

“Farm Tax in 30 Seconds: what a farm management deposit actually is.”

It's money you set aside in a good year and claim as a deduction that year. It's taxed when you take it out, ideally in a tougher year when your income is lower.

The basics: at least $1,000, up to $800,000 in total, you need to be a primary producer, and your off-farm income has to be $100,000 or less.

Leave it in for at least 12 months, unless an exception applies.

“Since 1 July, super has to be paid every payday. Is your business ready?”

Super now has to land in your employee's fund within seven business days of each payday.

And the ATO's free small business clearing house has closed. If you used it, you need a new way to pay.

The fix is usually in your payroll software: set super to go out with every pay run.

It's called Division 296 and it started on 1 July 2026.

If your total super is over $3 million, the earnings on the part above $3 million are taxed an extra 15 per cent. Above $10 million there's another 10 per cent on top. It applies to earnings you actually make, not paper gains.

“Farm Tax in 30 Seconds: how income averaging works.”

Farm income goes up and down. Tax rates don't care.

Income averaging lets primary producers average their taxable farm income over up to five years. In a big year, you get a tax offset so you're not paying the top rate on one good season.

Farm Tax in 30 Seconds #3

“Farm Tax in 30 Seconds: the $20,000 instant asset write-off.”

You can claim an eligible asset under $20,000 straight away, instead of depreciating it over years.

It's for businesses with turnover under $10 million, and it works per asset, so two $15,000 items can both count.

The catch: the asset has to be installed and ready to use, not just ordered.

Follow for episode 4.

Handing the farm on

“Is it possible to hand the farm to the next generation without a huge tax bill? Here's how one family started.”

[The situation, details changed: e.g. two kids on the farm, one in the city.]

The hard part was tax, stamp duty, and being fair to every child.

We started with [the first step, e.g. getting the whole family in one room], and [what came next].

DM "CHAT" if this is your family.

Day 22 · Monday, 7:30am · Value, challenges / obstacles

3 signs you've outgrown your structure

“3 signs your farm has outgrown its business structure.”

One: you're paying top-rate tax on profit you're leaving in the business.

Two: the next generation, or a new partner, is coming in.

Three: you're worried about protecting your assets if something goes wrong. If any of these sound familiar, it's worth a review. General information only.

Farm Tax in 30 Seconds #4

“Farm Tax in 30 Seconds: the first step in succession planning.”

The first step in succession planning isn't tax. It's a conversation.

Start years before you want to step back. Get everyone's goals on the table: who wants to farm, who doesn't, and what feels fair.

Then look at tax, structure and stamp duty together, with your accountant and your lawyer in the same room.

Follow for the next series.

The tax deduction myth

“Everyone thinks a tax deduction means you get the money back. It doesn't.”

A deduction lowers your taxable income, and that's all it does.

If you're on a 30 per cent rate and spend $1,000 on something deductible, you save about $300 in tax. You're still $700 out of pocket.

So buy things because the business needs them, not for the deduction.

Follow for more myths.
