Staying Compliant

General information only

Every video explains how things usually work. Nothing is advice for a specific person.

Never identify anyone

The Family Law Act restricts publishing anything that identifies people in family law proceedings. Every story is de-identified, and shared with the client's OK.

No promised outcomes

No "we'll win", no guarantees about property splits or parenting arrangements. Results talk, not promises.

You approve everything

Jane or Holly signs off every script, post and ad before it goes live. We also check it against your advertising and conduct rules.
